Tastes Like... This Italian white wine gives off an alluring scent of flowers, peaches, and orange peel without tasting candy-sweet. The Ocone vineyard grows this Falanghina grape, an ancient wine variety, in the environmentally conscious biodynamic method, which is based on the view of the vineyard as a complete living system. The animals, the soil, the insects, and other vegetation coexist in perfect harmony to produce this crisp white wine, without the help of chemicals or pesticides. Like a fine mineral water, this wine complements light bites such as Lemony White-Bean Bruschetta and an Antipasto Platter.
